

Current Vacancy

Lands Representative (South East UK) Oil & Gas

About us

BPA (owned by BP and Shell) manages over 1000km of liquid fuel pipelines, installations, and fuel depots in the UK. Pipelines remain the most sustainable way to transport bulk fuels and our professional team of around 200 colleagues ensure we always do it safely. Find out more at:

www.bpa.co.uk

Got a Question?

If you would like to know more about this role, please contact HR@bpa.co.uk for the full job description.

Job at a glance:

Closing date: 21st July 2020

Salary: £24,000 - £26,000 + overtime

Benefits van + laptop + tools/ equipment + bonus + generous pension + life insurance + 25 days holiday + 8 bank holidays + additional holiday purchase scheme + employee assistance support scheme + various well-being initiatives + annual Christmas party + flexible working options!

Location: Home based, covering an area from Hemel Hempstead to Heathrow / Gatwick

Position: Permanent

Love and want to work outdoors? Self-motivated and great with people? If so, then maybe our Lands team is the place for you.

What will you be doing?

You will join our Lands team of 10, keeping an eye on our southern pipelines to be aware of both authorised and unauthorised activities along the route. You will be talking with landowners about their planned works and liaising with contractors on a daily basis to ensure any works are undertaken safely and you will also undertake signage and marker post maintenance duties to ensure the pipelines remain visible to others.

In close contact with the office team, you will play an important role in ensuring landowners remain aware of the pipeline and that works near the pipeline are safe.

What do we need from you?

To have a love of the outdoors... you'll be out and about in all weathers!

To be physically able to walk alongside the pipelines, on agricultural land and carry out maintenance on the pipeline markers

Be approachable and personable with good communication skills as you will be dealing with landowners and tenants, contractors and utilities and of course the Lands team

Be a confident and effective self-starter – mainly working alone in the field and able to manage your time to ensure delivery of the job requirements

Useful (although not essential, as we will train you) would be previous experience in a field-based or outdoors role

Also advantageous is an ability to read maps and technical drawings. Some computer literacy would help too (particularly MS Office) and knowledge of Geographic Information Systems (GIS) would be great (although we can also train you in this).

What else?

The role is busy and varied but the rewards, training and development opportunities are great!

BPA recognise that improving our business performance depends on an increasingly diverse team, valuing you for your attitude and abilities over any other background attribute and as a technical business, we are particularly interested to even our gender mix and therefore encourage female applicants.

We recognise that everyone is different and we aim to provide a working environment where each person feels respected, valued and able to achieve their full potential. We also recognise the importance of work/life balance offering flexible working arrangements wherever it's possible.